News from Holland College and the Charlottetown Library Learning Centre

Emily MacIsaac, VP PEI, Student Engagement & Instructional Librarian, Holland College

At the Library

The winter semester has ended at Holland College. During the final two weeks of class, Student Union offered Snow Cones and Popcorn to ease the stressed minds of students! Leslie Holt from the Library helped scoop ice and bag popcorn. The library staff has also been helping students with the APA components in their final assignments and reviewing resumes to help with their post-graduation job hunt. We are always sad to see second-year students graduate, but we always look forward to meeting the new cohort of first-year students!

APLA Conference News

Proposals are in and the schedule has been finalized! As always, the sessions included in this year's virtual conference will be interesting and inspiring to those who attend. I'm sure the speakers will generate discussion within the library world.

We are also excited to announce that Annabelle Babineau and Barb Wire are hosting Drag Bingo! Please join the Queens as they call Bingo numbers and you'll be sure to have a great time with prizes to be won. Be sure to log into PheedLoop on Thursday, June 8th at 6:30- 8 pm!

Updates from the PEI Public Library Service & Charlottetown Library Learning Centre

PEI Public Library Service is ready for Spring! The library has partnered with Recreation PEI to offer hiking backpacks for patrons across the island to borrow. The backpacks include nature guides and hiking items for folks who want to get out on our PEI trails – What a great way to kick off the warm weather!

Krystal Dionne from the Charlottetown Library Learning Centre took on the #BookFace challenge and did an amazing job mimicking Philippa Gregory's book DawnLands. What a great way to have fun at the Library!
