

News From Prince Edward Island

News from Holland College, and PEI Public Library Service

Emily MacIsaac, Student Engagement & Instructional Librarian, Holland College

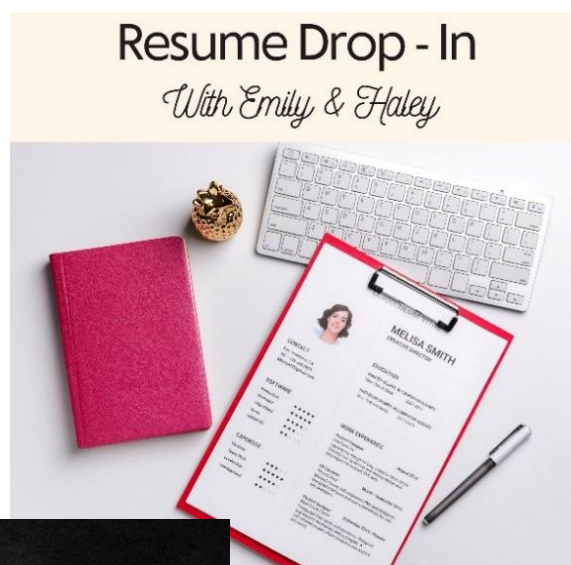

At the Prince of Wales Campus (PWC) Library

In September, the PWC library staff organized tours of our space and had a library booth outside during all the orientation festivities to meet first year students! Throughout the semester, our library has remained busy with students enjoying the comfortable chairs, booking study rooms, and using the colour printer. At the reference desk, we are always ready to assist with inquiries, provide printing support, or help locate specific individuals on campus.

October Programming

After the Thanksgiving weekend, Emily MacIsaac and Haley Doherty, from Holland College's Office of Retention, Part-Time Study & Career Services organized a Resume Drop-In event at the PWC Library. They positioned themselves at a central table in the library to conduct quick and targeted advice sessions for students who brought in their resumes.

Halloween is always a spectacle at Holland College! Student Union organized many events throughout the week, such as Halloween trivia and Door Decorating. The PWC Library always provides candy to students as well as fun free Orical Card readings.

Updates from the PEI Public Library Service

Staff Costumes from Charlottetown Learning Centre

Paper Pumpkins from Summerside Rotary Library

Charlottetown Library Learning Centre staff took Halloween by storm and staff wore amazing costumes.

The Summerside Rotary Library held a craftnoon for clients from Community Connections, they came for their monthly visit and made their own adorable creations.

First Annual PEI Library PD Day – October 17th 2024

October brought the first annual Library Workers Professional Development Day at the University of Prince Edward Island!

On October 17th library staff from Robertson Library, Holland College, PEI Public Library Service, and PEI Archives and Records came together to learn from one another. Everyone is looking forward to continuing the event in 2025.

